luxury accommodation, etc.

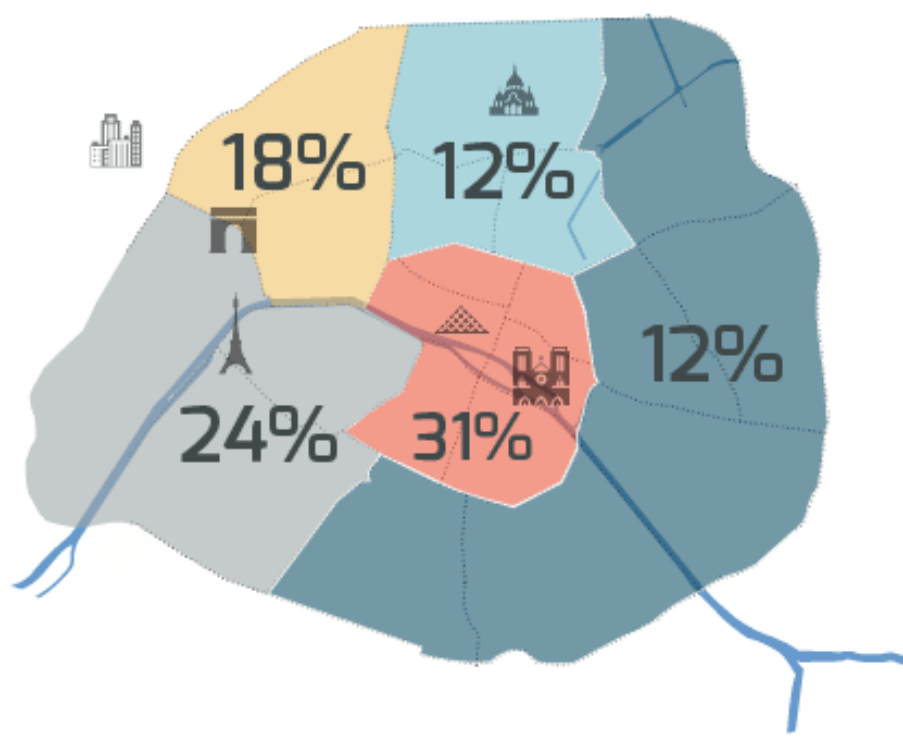

PARIS

In all neighborhoods

As a housing partner for professional mobility, we find accommodation for executives on assignment, employees working remotely, expatriates, etc., with "ready-to-live" apartments in all arrondissements of Paris.

Proximity of the workplace for employees working remotely is a priority

The city center is the flagship area for tenants living alone, from the 1st to the 6th arrondissement.

The western side of Paris attracts 24% of employees, with the 16th arrondissement alone gathering 13% of rentals. Ideal for couples and families.

Many requests are made for the Northwest of the capital, concentrating in the neighborhoods of Monceau and Batignolles.

The North of Paris is marked by the potential of the 18th arrondissement, particularly the neighborhood of Montmartre.

The East and the South of Paris are the least popular, because they are further away from the business centers.

For 1 month to 1 year and longer

We support companies and employees working remotely in their search for a home. From temporary to long term, we meet their needs for all types of furnished rentals.

Over 5,000 French and international companies trust us.

Paris Attitude controls and visits each apartment

Quality control

The furnished apartments are selected according to strict criteria: location, quality, comfort and equipment.

Personalized support

The Paris Attitude team assists its clients in order to offer them unique housing experiences, from the search for accommodation to the moment they leave the premises.

Guarantees

In partnership with Groupama, Paris Attitude offers home insurance and helps its customers with their relations with the landlord.

Our services

Over 50 selection criteria

Each home at Paris Attitude meets over 50 selection criteria aimed at ensuring absolute comfort.

We select and visit every apartment.

Support from start to finish

Custom search

Each request is processed by a dedicated, bilingual Paris Attitude agent. They receive the housing request and communicate with their client to find the rare gem. They will do their best to satisfy the client, by considering their wishes and adapting the proposal as they discuss further with the client.

Meticulous organization

We know our job like the back of our hand and we will assist families at every step of the booking procedure; from assembling the tenant file to signing the lease, until the moment they enter the apartment.

Booking and management

Once the accommodation is found, we centralize all administrative procedures, and we become the point of contact for rent management and any questions relating to the rental.

Absolute serenity

With our partner Groupama, we offer a comprehensive home insurance for each rental. Furthermore, our buildings are equipped with door codes or intercoms, and all apartments have a smoke detector.

Our staff

Our team of responsive bilingual negotiators will assist families in their quest for the ideal home. As experts of the market in the capital, they have access to all the properties on offer. They will focus on the most family-friendly apartments and houses to save time in their research.

Market expertise

Our presence in the sales market for over 16 years has provided us with a vast knowledge of Parisian properties, that we use to best advise families in their purchase project.

Personalized remote support

We offer a service that is adapted to the specificities of the expatriate situation. To do so, we identify the properties matching the defined specifications, we present them to the families, and we visit the properties as if the customers were there. Finally, we share a detailed visit report to help our customers make a quick decision.

Targeted partnerships

For our international clients, we have established partnerships with experts in taxation, wealth management, international financing, and interior design. This will allow our customers to acquire their future home in the best conditions.
